Presentation purpose:

Are you interested in obtaining your Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing specialty certification? This webinar series is designed for you. This series, offered over the summer, is targeted to nurses seeking to gain specialty certification in Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing. Presentations will cover topics identified as major content categories for the Neonatal Intensive Care Nursing exam through the National Certification Corporation. Unsure of your summer schedule? Each session can be attended virtually live or in a recorded format. We strongly encourage those interested to visit the NCC website at <https://www.nccwebsite.org/> for additional information on NCC exam eligibility and candidate guidelines.

Target audience:

This activity is designed for the interdisciplinary audience including the following:

Specialties: Neonatal

Professions: Nurse, Advanced Practice Nurse

Learning objectives:

- The participant will be able to correctly answer practice questions when presented through the course.
- Participants will be able to identify at least one area of increased neonatal knowledge related to content presented.
- Participants will be able to locate RNC-NIC specialty certification information and registration.
