

Navneet Strickland, DNP, FNP-BC, PMGT-BC, ONC
Nurse Practitioner - Pain Management

“I would like to introduce you to Navneet Strickland, DNP, FNP-BC, PMGT-BC, ONC who holds a master of science and doctorate degree in family nurse practitioner (MSN) from Madonna University. Her dissertation was named A Descriptive Study of Pain in Women Seeking Care for Chest Pain in An Acute Setting. She has a bachelors of science in nursing and a bachelors in nutrition food science from Wayne State University. She is a board certified pain management nurse (PMGT-BC) and a board certified orthopedic nurse (ONC). She went into pain management because she saw an opportunity to go beyond what medication could or could not fix. She tries to balance the patient’s needs between pharmacological and nonpharmacological needs. She continues to advocate for vulnerable populations such as patients with sickle cell disease and opioid use disorder by creating change in the workplace. Working in a variety of clinical areas such as community nursing, home care, acute, long-term, and clinical teaching; she has become passionate about how nursing can have an impact on the patient experience. Navneet is guided by the biblical principles in her care for her patients as those around her.

Navneet enjoys living an active, full lifestyle with her husband, son Zion, dog Gigi, and soon to be born baby boy. It is her attention to be the light amidst darkness as supported by our work at our ministry at Ascension and in this world.
